

COMMERCIAL LINES DEPARTMENT

Since its inception, Durham and Bates has expanded and grown into many areas of insurance expertise. Today, our Commercial Lines insurance department is the agency's largest, able to provide clients with a full range of insurance coverages and risk management solutions.

The Commercial Lines Department brings value-added service to its client base by establishing strong relationships and having a keen understanding of each client's business. Our role is that of a counselor providing insight to assist our clients in a changing business environment.

The Commercial Lines Department at Durham and Bates provides a variety of insurance coverages, including property, casualty, workers' compensation and bonding among others, with a special focus on the following industries:

- Construction
- Manufacturing
- Food Processors
- Marine
- Technology & Life Sciences

Can we have these link to their corresponding pages?

We also have specialized knowledge of a broader array of industries, including craft brewing, printers, wholesale/distributors, metal worker, plastic processors, golf courses, wood products and more.